DEAR GB FAMILY & FRIENDS

This year marks the beginning of our 99th year as an organisation. As we approach our centenary, we do not see it as a destination, but a milestone along a much longer journey.

The work we carry today did not begin with us, and it will not end with us.

It has been faithfully passed from generation to generation — by volunteers, educators, and families who believed that investing in the lives of Girls would change communities and shape the future.

So, as we stand at the threshold of our 99th year, perhaps the question before us is this: How will we mark the end of the 99th, and the beginning of the 100th?

Maybe it starts with a simple question:

What is one hope — one change — that feels just one step ahead of you, just barely out of reach?

- Perhaps it's building an alumni community or raising the third and fourth generation of leaders in the work you serve.
- Perhaps it's reaching a group of Girls who are currently outside our influence, or finding a better way to empower those already in our care.
- Perhaps it's inviting new partners, new people, or new resources that you once thought were impossible.

The truth is, we are called to a task that is unfinishable on this side of eternity. Which means the question may first need to turn inward:

Who do I need to become to fulfil the purpose I am called to?

The answer must rest on two of our Core Values: Deep Generosity and Courage.

- The courage to begin where we are, even when conditions aren't perfect and we feel unprepared, and
- The realisation that it does not depend on our strength alone. We lean on the generosity of a perfect Provider — refusing to let our limitations replace a bigger vision for our lives — so we can be generous toward others.

As you do, may your work be a gift back to you, in healthy growth, sustainability, and rest.

Thank you for your time, your talent, and your treasure in shaping the next generation.

The story continues because you are part of it.

Sharon Liat,
Brigade President

TO BECOME

SOMEONE WHO SERVES WITH HEART, LEADS WITH HUMILITY &
STAYS GROUNDED IN HER VALUES.

The Girls' Brigade has played a significant role in shaping Renee into the person she is today.

Over the years, it has given her a safe space to grow, to learn, and to lead. Being part of the GB community has helped her find her own voice and confidence.

Through Girls' Brigade, Renee learned how to step up and lead others, how to work as a team, and how to overcome challenges with a positive attitude. Organising community projects, helping younger girls feel welcome and supported—just like others once did for her.

More than anything, Girls' Brigade helped Renee see the kind of person she wants to be: someone who serves with heart, leads with humility, and stays grounded in her values, but also a sense of belonging and identity that continues to guide her path.

The Girls' Brigade Friend in Deed (GBFD) is our annual nationwide community service project.

On its 5th anniversary, through new partners, GBFD reaches new milestones in its reach and involvement - connecting GB Girls and fellow Singaporeans to fulfill specific wishes that uplift those who may be experiencing financial hardship, health challenges, limited mobility, or a lack of social support.

"I think GBFD is one of the events in GB that really gives Girls a strong sense of ownership. We want Girls to understand that it's not only about giving.

We want them to bring joy, we want them to bring love and hope to all the families that we are helping. So we teach them that "No, you're not too young to help."

Supporting Organisations:

"I hope that more community and corporate organisations will be part of such efforts because this is what makes Singapore's social compact strong; our collective strength to ensure that no one is left behind as we progress as one people, one nation.

Community partners such as the Girls Brigade play a key role in rallying resources through networks to uplift families and individuals. This includes our ComLink+ families, who face additional challenges and often have to stretch limited resources to meet various needs that they have. I would like to extend my heartfelt appreciation to the Girls' Brigade, partners and volunteers who have all chipped in to contribute to our shared vision of a more caring and inclusive society."

"We are heartened to see our Girls grow in many ways through their time in GB - they have changed from bashful Girls to gaining the courage to host parents at a Gala Night, from looking inwards to seeing to the needs of others, and from keeping to themselves to showing their appreciation to those who have made a difference in their lives.

Thank you, GB volunteers and teachers, for your weekly commitment to give our Girls the platform to shine.

Your devotion to GB has inspired Girls who have graduated to pay it forward by returning to their companies to serve and to guide the next generation of leaders."

INTRODUCING OUR LOVED ONES TO GB!

Public speaking can be scary, but doing it in front of loved ones makes everything better!

Girls from the 48th S Coy. hosted a special Gala Night that featured parent-child bonding games, fireside chats on parenting, and even a moment for Girls and their parents to write notes of appreciation to one another.

“It felt amazing to have such a supportive audience that understood how difficult it was to go up there and just speak, unscripted.

The audience enabled me to freely express myself, and I managed to earn their laughter when I tried to make the experience more enjoyable for them through my words and enthusiasm.”

Introducing the Evangel Fund

'Evangel' is an old word that expresses the good tidings of redemption through Jesus Christ. These tidings extend to all mankind, through God's people (Gen 12:2-3). Made possible with a seed gift in 2025, The Evangel Fund expresses God's heart for those who are anxious about the basic needs of life, and His knowledge of them.

For the GB Girl and/or her immediate family in financial need.

- Covers the cost of critical illness or other medical expenses for severe chronic illnesses which are not fully covered by insurance or other financial aids.
- Soon to include GB Girls and Officers wanting to seek help from a counsellor, as a pro-active choice for well-being, growth and stewardship of life's responsibilities.

My current profession wasn't something I had originally planned. I started in Pharmaceutical Sciences and later pursued a general science degree. Through my short stint in hospital settings, and more personally through living with my father's hearing impairment, I began to see how meaningful it would be to help people in a direct, tangible, and immediate way.

As a musician, I've always cherished how sound brings life and connection. Yet at home, I saw how easily those connections can fade when hearing is lost. How everyday moments, like shared laughter or even a quiet sigh, became less perceptible to him, making simple conversations and connection more difficult.

I was given the opportunity to pursue a Masters in Audiology, and it was the Elsie Lyne Scholarship from The Girls' Brigade Singapore that enabled me to complete it. More than financial support, it became a bridge that allowed me to restore connection for others like my father, and for the Girls with disabilities I've encountered as a volunteer GB Captain. Because of the generosity of others, I am now able to help others hear not just sound, but life more fully.

~ Christel Chue, Captain, 43rd P Coy. and recipient of the Elsie Lyne Scholarship.

Our Core Values

Guiding who we are & how we serve.

HUMILITY

We believe it is more important to be always real than to be always right.

We carefully consider how we affect others in the way we listen, speak, and act.

We learn, ask, and search for ways to get better, so we can serve better.

HONOUR

We love the people and places we serve, leaving them better than when we first found them.

We lead visibly through our words and actions.

We honour the effort of others with our excellence.

COURAGE

We believe that those who wait for perfect weather will never plant.

We are bold enough to try new things and change old habits.

We are comfortable in front of a crowd and in front of a mirror that shows us who we really are.

DEEP GENEROSITY

We will not allow our own limitations to replace God's bigger vision for us.

We are generous towards the next generations, serving them without a need to feel more important than others.

Our hearts are big enough to help them lead us - we serve with no strings attached.
